FOREWORD

BY T. P. SEVENSMA

Librarian, League of Nations Library

THE Publications of the League of Nations have established a bad reputation among librarians and others interested in the troublesome task of their cataloging, classifying and binding.

This reputation is not wholly unmerited, but is excusable. These documents were not in the early years printed for public use. The way they have been published reflects the characteristics of the League of Nations in the first years of its existence. New organisms and bodies had to be formed, and those already existing had to be modified to meet their changing needs. The evolution of these tasks of the League can be followed step by step in the system of its publications, and a comparison between the printed documents of one of the first years and one of the later years shows the evolution of a system.

For those who have the opportunity of following the work of the League from the inside, the structure of the organization and of its publications is clear, but for outsiders it is often difficult to understand the machinery of Assembly, Council, Sections, Committees, Subcommittees, etc. Another difficulty for outsiders — often even for those inside — is the technical terminology that has come into existence. The use of abbreviations in and on documents is often puzzling to the consultant.

It is true the always active Publications Department of the League prepares catalogs of League publications, and that each new edition is an improvement on the last. It seems to me, however, that only those who, being far from the source of the documentation at Geneva, must struggle for themselves with this confused material, can obtain a real understanding of the manifold snares spread for those who have to deal with these documents. For this reason I think the "Key" offered in this volume will certainly prove to be a "Master Key" for all librarians.

The directions for the use of this handbook are very simple and clear. The notes on "Numbering Systems and Cataloging" provide a valuable introduction to the history and the present system of League documents. The list of documents arranged chronologically is really the first retrospective bibliography of League publications, and is to a certain degree a brief survey of the activities of the first ten years of the League. The compilation of all meetings of the Assembly, Council, Committees, Commissions, Subcommittees, and Special Committees goes far beyond the limits of a simple "Key" to documents; it has a value of its own as an historical survey. Finally, the concordance of official numbers and sales numbers does away with the last small technical difficulties which might otherwise arise in the administration of the documents.

The energetic administrative staff of the World Peace Foundation merits the gratitude of all interested in League documents and League activities for its enterprising initiative. The head of its Reference Service, Miss Carroll, is to be congratulated on the accomplishment of her tiresome task. The elaboration of this useful book, announced as a simple "Key", will not only meet the needs of American librarians, but it will enable my American colleagues to furnish a first rate service commensurate with the strong and noteworthy interest taken by American students in international affairs. In this way the work will contribute its part to international understanding and to the high ideals of the League of Nations.

PLACED ON PUBLIC SALE
1920-1929

NUMBERING SYSTEMS AND CATALOGING

League of Nations documents are produced primarily to facilitate the conduct of the international business which the organization forwards on behalf of the Member states. Placing documents on sale for the public is but a secondary object of publication. It follows that forms of enumeration employed on League documents must serve first of all the requirements of official business. Since the use of the documents by students and research workers has become widespread, efforts have been made by the League, during the last few years, to aid librarians in classifying the varied types of publications issued.

Two systems of official enumeration have been employed on League documents. The first system was used from the establishment of the League in 1920 up to April, 1921. For example, the Minutes of the first meeting of the Council bore the number 20/29/1. In that official number the "20" represented the year, 1920; the "29" represented an arbitrary number for that division of the League — the Council as a body producing Minutes — and the "1" indicated the order of the document published under Council auspices. Again, under this first system, the publications of the Assembly were indicated by the number "48". Thus, Assembly documents for the year 1920 bore numbers as follows: 20/48/1, 20/48/2, etc. Based upon the theory of filing in an official registry, this system was discontinued because it was not sufficiently elastic for the requirements of publication and official distribution.

Official Numbers

The new system of official numbering in force from April 22, 1921, utilizes numbers assigned to documents for the Distribution of Documents Service, one of the divisions of the Secretariat of the League of Nations. The official numbers in most frequent use are those appearing on documents distributed to the Assembly, the Council, and the Council and Member states. For instance, A. 1. 1921 indicates Assembly document No. 1, distributed to the Second Assembly of the League in 1921; C. 1. 1921 designates Council document No. 1, distributed to Members of the Council only; and a document numbered C. 15. M. 10. 1921 means that it was the fifteenth document distributed to the Council in that year and the tenth to the Member states of the League.

Another series — Circular letters sent by the Secretary-General to Members of the League — designated as C. L. — is not available for sale separately. Occasionally, however, Circular Letters are printed in connection with other related documents placed on sale.<sup>1</sup>

Due to the fact that the Secretariat is charged with the task of preparing documents for official circulation and for publication, Roman numerals from I–XIII, (a list of which is printed at p. 13 of this Key), appear on the documents as a part of the official number. These Roman numerals indicate the particular Section of the Secretariat of the League from which these documents have emanated. From the librarian's point of view, this Roman numeral may be regarded both as an author and a key to the general subject matter of the document. For instance, II is used on all Economic and Financial documents. A number such as C. 92. M. 47. 1922. II means a document issued by the Economic and Financial Section of the League in 1922, being the 92d document in order of distribution to the Council and the 47th document furnished to Member states.

The words "Official No." have preceded the number in the upper right-hand corner of League documents since 1929.

League of Nations Publications Numbers

A small number of librarians have attempted to classify documentation by "A," "C" and "C. M." numbers, but as a large proportion of the documents are not printed separately, but are included in the Official Journal, Records of Assemblies, etc., this proved to be a very complicated task of cross-reference. In order to help classification, the League of Nations, beginning with the calendar year 1926 added to the lower right-hand corner of all documents placed on sale a box containing the Publications Sales Number. It was felt that this enumeration would aid librarians in determining the number of documents issued for sale each year under each Roman numeral. It is known as "Series of League of Nations Publications" number (Ser. L. o. N. P.). It consists of two identifying lines: The Roman numeral for the Section, the name of the Section written out in full, and on the bottom line the year of publication, the Roman numeral symbolizing the Section of origin, and an Arabic numeral indicating that it is the 10th or 15th, whatever the case may be, publication of that particular Section for that year. For example

Series of League of Nations Publications

II. ECONOMIC AND FINANCIAL

1929. II. 47

Interpreted, this means that the document was the 47th issued for sale from the Economic and Financial Section in the year 1929.

In addition to the list of Roman numerals used in Series of League of Nations Publications, there are a few documents which fall into a category denominated as "General Questions" or "General." This division is almost wholly confined to such publications as the Report to the . . . Ordinary Session of the Assembly of the League on the Work of the Council, on the Work of the Secretariat . . . the agenda of the Assembly, papers relating to League buildings, and other miscellaneous matters.

Committee and Conference Numbers

The development of League activities made it necessary to create a system for identifying documents circulated to committees or to conferences, either as a whole or for the special attention of their committees. In devising a scheme for recording such distribution, the initials of the French names for the committees, conferences, etc., were adopted. A list of these abbreviations with the French text and English equivalents is printed at p. 227. The documents are frequently reissued to the Council and Member states and placed on sale. In such instances, librarians will find them indicated in this Key, for example, as follows:

C. 351. M. 112. 1925. XII.
(C. I. C. I. 141)

The parenthesized number indicates Commission Internationale de Coopération Intellectuelle (International Committee on Intellectual Cooperation), 141 signifying the 141st document distributed to that committee. It is important to recognize that these subsidiary committees and conference numbers do not run by the year, but are continuous for the life of the body to which they are distributed. Committee and conference numbers are carried under the official numbers, as noted in the example given above.

Not infrequently, such documents are printed in the Official Journal, annexes to Minutes of the Council, annexes to minutes of meetings of various Committees, Commissions, etc., or in the Records of the Assemblies.

The Secretariat's policy of making public substantially all documents results in the occasional publication for sale of documents bearing these committee or conference numbers only. While such instances are infrequent, they create bibliographic difficulties, and the list of all initials used up to 1930 for the identification of League of Nations documents has been added to this Key for the purpose of solving this difficulty.

Registry Numbers

It has been emphasized that League documents are prepared primarily for the use of Governments Members of the League. It will be apparent to all that the keeping of archives of the Secretariat is a matter distinct from distribution. In the internal administrative services of the Secretariat, the Registrar is intrusted with keeping the archives, a task similar to any official docket service, and the registry number relates solely to this service. Identification of incoming papers is effected by registry numbers<sup>1</sup> which not infrequently appear upon documents published in numbers of the Official Journal and sometimes elsewhere.

Editions and Supplements

The following information will be of assistance in checking: In an official number a parenthesized Arabic figure indicates an edition. Thus, C. 190(1). M. 93. 1929. V. indicates that the document was originally issued to the Council as C. 190. 1929. V. It was subsequently issued a second time in a revised form to the Council and simultaneously to the Member states for the first time. In this form it was issued to the public and the official number it then bore shows the foregoing to have been its previous history.

3D/12002/12002
1A/12507/8450
5B/13362/948
13C/46569/29880
5B/13503/823

An official number containing a parenthesized lower case letter indicates a supplement to a previous document. Thus, C. 73(a). M. 38(a). 1929. V. indicates that the document contains information strictly supplementary to that contained in C. 73. M. 38. 1929. V. It is apparent that the plain number is the original document, that the (a) document is a first supplement, etc. This notation is frequently required in cases where Member states make replies to inquiries by the Secretary-General and exigencies of time are involved in the preparation for publication of material in hand or where delays occur in receipt of replies. Collation of material in such cases sometimes offers difficulties but cross references to supplementary documents should be added to the catalog card for the primary document. A case in point is: C. 73. M. 38. 1929. V. which has the Ser. L. o. N. P. number 1929. V. 1, and C. 73(a). M. 38(a). 1929. V. has 1929. V. 8., while C. 73(b). M. 38(b). 1929. V. has 1927. V. 12. These documents should be bound with their respective years under Section V, if binding is being done under Series of League of Nations numbers.

Language of Documents

French and English are the official languages of the League of Nations, and League publications are issued in both languages. Ordinarily, only the English version is handled by this Foundation. The permanent exception is certified copies of treaties, which are always published with the text of both languages in parallel. Occasionally a document is issued in a single language. French documents supplied on the global subscription services offered by World Peace Foundation are customarily technical studies prepared for the use of committees which are made available to the public on account of their scientific value. (A number of Health Committee publications are printed in French only.)

Structure of Organization

The structural organization of the League is graphically indicated on the chart facing page 233, with particular reference to sources of documentation. A full development of activity on subjects handled by the League of Nations involves three parts: A section of the Secretariat, an advisory or technical committee made up of governmental or private experts, and a series of conferences in which the Governments of the world give definite form and force to recommendations found by the committees to be ripe for international agreement in treaty form. The Roman numeral classification denoting the Section of origin can be applied to all three. For instance, Communications and Transit, VIII, will cover the section of the Secretariat, the Advisory Committee and the General Conferences, with subsidiary shelf number indications for each division, if desired. In the case of a conference, special documents for its use are likely to be issued, but may also be assimilated under the Roman numeral.

Three such groupings, known as Technical Organizations, existed at the beginning of 1930 as follows:

- Economic and Financial Organization, with the former fully developed in itself as the Economic Organization;
- Organization for Communications and Transit;
- Health Organization.

These organizations are only the full development of a series of cognate activities and their structure corresponds to the normal progress of a problem through the League of Nations machinery. Consequently, it is advisable to handle all similar material on the basis indicated above and with a view to its subject taking eventually the form of a treaty negotiated in a League conference.

List of League Meetings and Conferences

In order to provide a ready means for finding or identifying specific meetings or conferences held under the auspices of the League of Nations, a compilation of the sessions of the Assembly, Council, committees of the League, conferences, etc., is attached to this Key at page 233. The arrangement followed is identical with that used throughout the Key; the section of origin is the determining factor.

The purpose, for which the various organs of the League, as well as the committees, sub-committees and conferences were established is given under each committee or conference.

Handling of the Collection

The problem of shelf listing can be approached from two angles: Shall the publications be kept together or shall they be distributed on the shelves by subject? The choice of method will naturally depend upon the library and the needs of its users. Most libraries file the documents as a whole under a single shelf number. The World Peace Foundation recommends this treatment. To that number in the case of the Records of the Assembly, and the Minutes of the Council (up to the 16th sess.) and the Treaty Series initial letters denoting the series are added. The Roman numerals of the Official Numbers are the best practical criterion for classification of all other documents.

The Foundation has found it convenient to give the publications of the Information Section of the Secretariat the major shelf number, plus the additional classification of news. The Information Section serves the entire League Secretariat and its publications do not bear Roman numerals. Publications of the Library, such as the Books on the Work of the League of Nations catalogued in the Library of the Secretariat, will require a special treatment.

The record of matters handled as international business is so complex that too close shelf listing involves the necessity of multiplying folio pamphlet files or temporary binders to hold the documents of the many subjects simultaneously under consideration. It is, in our judgment, better to assemble material broadly by subject and to depend upon added entries on catalog cards for detailed analysis.

Another reason that too close shelf listing is impractical is that every subject explored and worked up to a practical form in sections of the Secretariat or in League commissions or committees is given its final form and effect by the Council in the first instance, and perhaps, by the Assembly in the second instance. It follows that the Minutes of Council and the Records of the Assembly are necessary complements of the publications of any section of the Secretariat. This is not, however, the case with conferences, which are made up of delegates accredited by Governments and the action of which consequently is independent of either the Assembly or Council, except as they may provide in resolutions for the convocation and physical arrangements of a conference.

Many libraries have bound the publications by Section designation. For instance, the Minutes of the Sessions of the Health Committee may be bound together. Whether Reports to the Assembly and Council on such sessions should be intercollated with the Minutes of the Committee will depend upon individual preference, but we should advise against such a practice.

Pending binding, there will remain a quantity of documents of varying bulk to be shelved. We advise carrying these, appropriately shelf numbered, in folio pamphlet boxes or in folio spring binders.

The arrangement used in this Key may serve as a binding guide for libraries which have not yet selected a permanent binding scheme for the publications of the League. A complete list of all documents placed on sale from 1920-1929 is herewith provided. Libraries may check their publications for binding in annual volumes, using the lists of documents as Tables of Contents, or they may bind each Roman numeral section separately for each year, or in convenient volumes covering the period 1920-1929. The practical advantages of the first method have been described by Mr. Thomas Franklin Currier, Assistant Librarian, Harvard College Library in the March 15, 1930, issue of the Library Journal. Beginning with the year 1930 title and contents pages are to be supplied from Geneva for "each category of documents placed on sale."<sup>1</sup>

Various binding schemes in use in the libraries subscribing to annual global service offered by the World Peace Foundation have been studied by Mr. Charles E. Walton, Chief of the Acquisition Department, Washington Square Library, New York University, New York City. Mr. Walton has worked out for his own collection a comprehensive binding scheme for form treatment of League publications, which he presented to the Catalog Section of the American Library Association at the Washington Conference, May, 1929.<sup>2</sup> His survey of binding practice in the 37 university libraries reporting, out of a total of 55, shows that "16, or 43%, have adopted permanent methods of treatment," dividing almost equally between the use of Roman numeral classification on League documents, represented by Series of League of Nations numbers since 1926, and various individual methods of classification.

Subject classifications are in use in the libraries of Johns Hopkins, Princeton and Southern Methodist Universities. The classification methods used are set forth in considerable detail in "Classifying, Cataloging and Binding League of Nations Publications"<sup>3</sup> by C. E. Walton (Library Journal, February 15, 1930). Reprints of the articles by Mr. Currier and Mr. Walton are available from the World Peace Foundation.

It is assumed as a matter of course that every student of League of Nations documentation is now familiar with the League of Nations Library publication "Brief Guide to League of Nations Publications," available without charge from the World Peace Foundation.

Treaty Series <sup>1</sup>

PUBLICATION OF TREATIES AND INTERNATIONAL ENGAGEMENTS REGISTERED WITH THE SECRETARIAT OF THE LEAGUE

Under the terms of Article 18 of the Covenant of the League of Nations: "Every treaty or international engagement entered into hereafter by any Member of the League shall be forthwith registered with the Secretariat and shall as soon as possible be published by it. No such treaty or international engagement shall be binding until so registered." The publication of the Treaty Series fulfils this condition of the Covenant.

The texts of the Treaties are published in their original form: an English and a French translation are added to these texts when they have not been made in one of these two languages.

The Treaty Series contains international engagements of all kinds: Treaties of Peace, Treaties of Commerce, chief International Conventions, adhesions to these Conventions, extension of Treaties of Commerce and Navigation, notice of Treaties, etc. This series constitutes the most complete collection published on this subject and bears, moreover, the seal of an indisputable authenticity. (Many treaties not otherwise available are printed in this series.)

REFERENCES TO DOCUMENTATION

The following list of meetings of Committees, Commissions, Subcommittees and Conferences under League of Nations auspices has been compiled by the Reference Service of the World Peace Foundation from the official documentation placed on public sale. It is intended primarily to aid librarians and research specialists in the use of this material.

This compilation does not purport to be a complete record since references have been made only to documents available for library acquisition.

By reference to the preceding portions of the Key, under appropriate year and section, the descriptive title, order number and price of each reference document may be readily ascertained.

ASSEMBLY

Article 2 of the Covenant of the League of Nations specifies that "action of the League under this Covenant shall be effected through the instrumentality of an Assembly and of a Council, with a permanent Secretariat."

"The Assembly shall consist of representatives of the Members of the League." It meets annually at Geneva in September. It "may deal at its meetings with any matter within the sphere of action of the League or affecting the peace of the world." At meetings of the Assembly each Member of the League shall have one vote, and may have not more than three representatives. (Art. 3 of Covenant.)

COUNCIL

The Council, organized under Art. 4 of the Covenant, consists of permanent members with general interests and nonpermanent members elected by the Assembly. (Nine nonpermanent members since 1926, six from 1923 to 1926, originally four from 1920 to 1922.)

The Council, now numbering fourteen members, acts on behalf of the Members of the League as a whole, not solely on behalf of those whose representatives compose it.

"The Council may deal with any matter within the sphere of action of the League or affecting the peace of the world" (Art. 4, par. 4).

From 1930 the Council meets in January, May and September. It convenes three days before the opening session of the Assembly and after the election of nonpermanent members during the Assembly.

Committee of Experts on Double Taxation (and Tax Evasion)

In September, 1921, the Financial Committee appointed a committee of four expert economists to make a study and report on the economic consequences of double taxation. This Committee met in March, 1923, and submitted a report in April of that year (Doc. E. F. S. 73/F. 19).

In the meantime the kindred problem of fiscal evasion having also been put before the Financial Committee, that Committee decided to appoint a further committee of technical experts on fiscal matters, who were at the same time government representatives, "to examine from an administrative and practical point of view both the problem of double taxation and that of tax evasion." This Committee of Seven, representing Belgium, Czechoslovakia, France, Great Britain, Italy, The Netherlands and Switzerland, met five times between June, 1923, and February, 1925, and submitted a general report (Doc. C. 115. M. 55. 1925. II).

As a result of this report the committee of experts was enlarged to include representatives of the Argentine, Germany, Japan, Poland and the United States as well as of the seven countries previously represented. It is important to note that these government experts performed their duties wholly in a private capacity. This enlarged Committee met three times from May, 1926, to April, 1927, and submitted four Draft Conventions, together with Proposals on the future organization of the work on the problems involved (Doc. C. 216. M. 85. 1927. II).

Finally, in October, 1928, A General Meeting of Government Experts on Double Taxation and Tax Evasion was convened as a result of the Council resolution of June 17, 1927, to review the report of the committee of experts and to extend its provisions.
